

ADAM POGUE

Adam Pogue is a textile artist based in Los Angeles. He began his career working in apparel and has since created his own textile applique language, inspired by Korean Pojagi and quilting techniques found throughout the world. Adam creates compositions that are familiar and yet completely original; with hand stitched details, pops of unexpected color, and unconventional shapes and material combinations.

