

AUTUMN CASEY

Autumn Casey (b. 1987, West Palm Beach, FL) acts as a one woman-recycling center to her immediate friends and family. Using the studio as a creative system to organize the flow of life's contents that she finds herself surrounded by. Her practice, which moves from sculpture to collage, as well as video and performance, considers the history of the found object and assemblage-redeploying existing materials or moments in unexpected, idiosyncratic ways.
