FREELINGWATERS

Consisting of Gijs Frieling — an artist known for creating large-scale murals that forge together decorative painting, folk art traditions, and religious iconography — and Job Wouters (a.k.a. Letman) — a practitioner of the lost art of psychedelic and delirious penmanship, known for his unbridled alphabetic experimentation — Freeling Waters operates between illustration, painting, graphic design and furniture design to achieve an aesthetic that transcends vernacular nostalgia.
