

SOPHIE LOU JACOBSEN

Sophie Lou Jacobsen is a French-born, New York City based designer. With a keen focus on the emotional aspect of objects, she creates objects for the home that blur the boundaries between functional objects and decorative art. Sophie believes that objects possess an innate energy that can have a strong effect on our lives. In this light, she aims to imbue a certain poetry in her creations in order to enhance daily rituals, or to create moments of pause and reflection.
