

ARFLEX

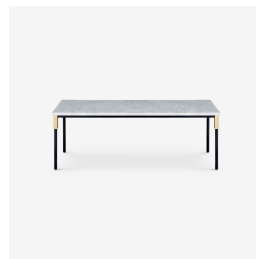

From its inception, Italian furniture company Arflex has been known for its boldly imaginative amalgam of technology and aesthetics. Synonymous with the evolution of 20th century furniture design, the manufacturers were pivotal in defining modern Italian style. Arflex furniture is the result of decades of extensive research, technological innovation and material experimentation. This manufacturing prowess has attracted generations of designers and architects, garnering the brand a reputation as an incubator and career-maker. Today, the firm continues to engage emerging designers whilst releasing its classic, timeless pieces; a body of work that spans more than 65 years.
